Bring your extra tools, wheel barrows, gloves and SNACKS! This Sunday, we're going to tidy up our Fellowship. We'll work in the garden, the playground, the RE closets and cupboards, we'll clean windows, anything we can think of that we can accomplish between 11 am and 2 pm. (If you can't stay that long, just come for as long as you can.) If you aren't feeling very able-bodied come with sunscreen and cheer the rest of us on. We're looking forward to chatting and cheerful community connections.

Sept. 13, 11 am In-person and Zoom
Water Ceremony and Homecoming
Rev. Lise Adams Sherry and Jenn Bluntach

It's the official start to our 2026-27 Fellowship Year! For our annual Water Ceremony, don't forget to bring some water from someplace that nurtured your soul this summer. It could be from your home garden, a rafting trip, a waterfall you hiked too, or maybe you collected it during a particularly beautiful rainstorm. If you forgot to gather water this summer, don't worry, we'll have proxy water available. During our service we'll blend our waters to represent all our spiritual beliefs as well as our specific contributions to AUUF and our world. Once again, we'll show that folks with different views and experiences can get along! Isn't that a wonderful thing to celebrate?

A message from your Endowment Committee

How can you find out more about the AUUF Endowment Fund? You can download the informational brochure at AnchorageUUF.org/endowment-fund. There are 5 AUUF members on the local committee who are responsible for updating information, helping answer questions, and advising the AUUF Board and overall Fellowship about this fund, its investments, and its eventual use. For questions, you can contact committee chair James Denney at alaskakingdad@yahoo.com or treasurer David O'Brien at AkDrData@gmail.com.

You are invited to Program Council!! But what is it?

Our first meeting is Wednesday, September 15, 5:45-8pm. People jokingly refer to Program Council as the Committee on Committees. But before you groan and skip to the next article, please keep reading a minute more. Starting this year, Program Council will also have . . .

- Soup, bread and dessert!! Sounds good, eh?

And beyond that . . .

- It's open to all friends and members of AUUF to learn more about the workings of AUUF and explore ways they'd like to be involved.
- It's a place to brainstorm about new ideas and directions we'd like AUUF to go.
- It's a place to learn more about your fellow AUUFers as fellowship (checking-in) is an important part of what we do.
- We'll discuss the different ways our congregation can contribute to our Social Justice Pillars. (Currently we're focusing on the Environment and Climate Change. Starting in January it will be Education.)
- We share our Team and Committee calendars so we don't conflict on events and may even find ways to collaborate. (Wow!)
- We help to unlock the mysterious workings of things like our AUUF Healthy Relations Covenant and the budget.
- If you're not reporting for a specific team or committee, all you need to bring to this first meeting is your curiosity and a taste for soup.
- We only meet. Three. Times. A. Year.

I hope you'll consider attending on Sept. 15. If nothing else, you won't have to worry about dinner that evening! If you need childcare, please let Jenn know by Thursday, Sept. 10, 2026.

If you have question, please contact me (Rev. Lise), Robin or Erik Hill.

See you soon!

Helping Hands Auction

Your AUUF Alliance is planning to have an auction to raise funds that will be used to contribute to the Fellowship. This on-line auction involves offering to share our skills with one another.

Do you love gardening, sewing/mending, knitting, playing with children, cleaning, organizing, car washing, genealogy, sharing and teaching tech skills?

Please think about what you might be able to offer as well as what you might want to purchase. Contact Kalen via email, kalensaxon@gmail.com or phone 907 244-8221, with a description of what you can offer, a photo and a starting bid suggestion.

The auction will take place 9/24-10/4. A link will be sent to AUUF members and friends. We will gratefully receive your offers and hope that you will find something to bid on too!

Invitation to Study Deliberative Democracy

Dear Friends,

We'd like to invite you to join us for a study of deliberative democracy. Forms of participatory democracy- alternatives that go beyond what we are traditionally accustomed to are being experimented around the world. Come, learn with us what deliberative democracy is. "Deliberative democracy rests on the recognition that laws and policies gain their legitimacy not merely from a vote, but from a process of careful deliberation among citizen peers leading up to that vote. Its principal instrument is the citizens' assembly: a group of ordinary people — usually a hundred or more — chosen by sortition to be genuinely representative of the broader population, who engage in sustained facilitated discussion on a particular topic until they arrive at a considered recommendation." Jeremy Lent, Ecocivilization. Dates & Times: 6- 7:30 p.m. on September 9, 23, October 14, 28 Snacks, coffee, tea will be served.

For more details, please email Yaso at yaso.thiru@gmail.com with "Study Group" on the subject line.

SEPTEMBER HALF PORTION FOR SOCIAL ACTION:
Food Bank of Alaska

Compassion in Action: The Fight Against Hunger

Hunger is growing in our state. More Alaskans are turning to food pantries than ever before. At the same time, donations of both food and funds have dropped, which makes it harder to keep up with the need. Pantries across Alaska are feeling the strain.
Today, about 1 in 7 Alaskans, or more than 100,000 people, need food assistance. That is a big increase over last year. Children and seniors are especially impacted. More than 1 in 5 children face hunger, and Alaska ranks near the top in the nation for senior hunger. For many older Alaskans, Social Security is their only income, and it does not stretch far enough.

Food Bank of Alaska works every day to meet this rising need. Last year they distributed nearly 8 million pounds of food through about 150 partners. That included children's meals, senior food boxes, and millions of meals for families statewide. During the annual Thanksgiving Blessing, hosted through faith-based organizations, almost 10,000 households were able to gather for a holiday meal. Outreach efforts also connected families to SNAP so they could secure more than half a million additional meals.
September is Hunger Action Month, a time to reflect on the reality of hunger here in Alaska and to join together to do something about it.

This work is only possible through volunteers. Nearly 1,000 people gave more than 16,000 hours of their time last year. Every meal shared, every box packed, and every hour given helps move us closer to a more compassionate Alaska.

If you would like to learn more or get involved, visit www.foodbankofalaska.org or follow Food Bank of Alaska on Facebook.

September Worship: Homecoming

During the first worship service of September, as UU’s, we celebrate the beginning of a new "church year" known as Homecoming or Ingathering. It is a time to reconnect with our community of Beloveds. It is a time to reach out to those we have lost contact with, check on them, and extend invitations to return "home." In September, we also focus on our connection to our ancestors. In many of our traditions, the fall is a time when the "veil" between our reality and the "unseen" world thins. This thinning of the "veil" allows us increased access to our ancestors.

Liturgically, September is also a period of transition where we acknowledge the realities of our death and rebirth in the African Diaspora through the horrors of colonialism and the Middle Passage. In September, we honor the element of water for its entangled significance to our story of faith, culture, wisdom, and thriving. We do this through our unique approach to water communion.

For our BLUU water communion, we invite all attendees to gather and bring materials to participate in our water communion ritual: two clean vessels; one of the vessels should have drinkable water in it and the other should be empty. The vessels should be good for pouring from one to the other.

Black Sacred Space:

BLUU's online worship services are Black Sacred Space in their entirety — by and for Black people, with the words and voices of Black folks across the diaspora — and we hope that Black UUs and Black UU-adjacent folks (who share our values) from far and wide will join us!

For our non-Black siblings in faith, please DO share this invitation with Black folks in your life and community. Getting the word out about BLUU's gatherings and other programming is one powerful way of lending your support, and we deeply appreciate it!

For all of our services, feel free to come into our BLUU Zoom Room as early as 15 minutes before the start of the service to get settled, say hello to the folks who are already gathering, and listen to the music softly playing as we all prepare for our time together.

NOMINATIONS NEEDED

The Board needs your nominations for people who have stood out as AUUF volunteers this year and over time. Each year we present two awards during the annual dinner to AUUF members who have contributed substantially to our congregation. The awards are:

Volunteer of the Year: This award honors a person or group who has contributed a significant amount of volunteer time to the Fellowship during the last year. Recent awardees were Renee Frost and Katherine Huffman.

Fred Hillman Distinguished Service Award: This award is named after long-time AUUF member and former Board president Dr. Fred Hillman, who passed away in 2014. This award honors a person like Fred who lives the Seven Principles as part of their everyday life. Last year we presented this award to Kalen Saxton and Elayne Hunter.
To nominate someone for an award, send a paragraph telling why this person should be recognized to Board member Laura Kabatt-Kennedy, rabbitlt75@gmail.com.

The deadline for nominations is October 15, 2026.

Thank you!

SEPTEMBER HALF PORTION FOR SOCIAL ACTION:

Food Bank of Alaska

Compassion in Action: The Fight Against Hunger

Hunger is growing in our state. More Alaskans are turning to food pantries than ever before. At the same time, donations of both food and funds have dropped, which makes it harder to keep up with the need. Pantries across Alaska are feeling the strain.
Today, about 1 in 7 Alaskans, or more than 100,000 people, need food assistance. That is a big increase over last year. Children and seniors are especially impacted. More than 1 in 5 children face hunger, and Alaska ranks near the top in the nation for senior hunger. For many older Alaskans, Social Security is their only income, and it does not stretch far enough.

Food Bank of Alaska works every day to meet this rising need. Last year they distributed nearly 8 million pounds of food through about 150 partners. That included children's meals, senior food boxes, and millions of meals for families statewide. During the annual Thanksgiving Blessing, hosted through faith-based organizations, almost 10,000 households were able to gather for a holiday meal. Outreach efforts also connected families to SNAP so they could secure more than half a million additional meals.
September is Hunger Action Month, a time to reflect on the reality of hunger here in Alaska and to join together to do something about it.

This work is only possible through volunteers. Nearly 1,000 people gave more than 16,000 hours of their time last year. Every meal shared, every box packed, and every hour given helps move us closer to a more compassionate Alaska.

Planning for the Annual Auction is Underway

Acceptance of auction items Sunday, October 11th

Planning for AUUF's annual auction is underway. This year's theme is "Creating a Climate of Community". We create the climate of community in our personal interactions like hugging and laughing when we greet our neighbors or chatting in the social room. The proceeds from our auction provide the environment for this quality time together. Our full and part-time AUUF staff underpin all of this. Don't forget lights, heat, water and plumbing. All of this generates a climate of ease, comfort, safety and enjoyment which allows us to show up for (or Zoom in to) the forum and the service without a second thought.

The auction is a great way to support that community, last year our combined efforts generated over $18,000 in additional revenue. You can offer a service, teach a skill, bake a dish, offer a group dining experience or contribute lightly used and like-new items for the auction. Starting Sunday, October 11th we will accept auction items at the Fellowship. This is just over two weeks. We'll provide more dates and information in upcoming newsletters. For now, think about how this year's auction can be even better with your help. Reach out to Robin Hill at (907) 244-9192 (akhils@ak.net) if you have questions.

Would you like to Help at the Family Emergency Cold Weather Shelter?

Interested in helping our unhoused neighbors? You can help at the Family Emergency Cold Weather Shelter! Opportunities to volunteer start October 13 and runs through April.

AUUF provides dinner, evening presence, and fire-watch volunteers two Tuesday evenings a month. You can help by providing food for dinner, or volunteering for a 3 or 4 hour shift (7-10, 10-2, 2-6, or 6-9). This is an easy and fulfilling way to build the beloved community: helping our neighbors and sharing time and getting to know other UU members and the families that stay at the shelter. It is an insight to Anchorage and helps us put life in perspective. Volunteer for one shift or a series.

If you're interested, Dennis has more information and a sign-up form at the table in the Social Room. Or contact him by email. We can provide training! A background check is required; contact Rev Lise for that.
